

Ninth Universal Postal Congress, London, May 10 - June 28, 1929

The Ninth Universal Postal Congress was held in Burlington Gardens, W.1., London, England. In preparation for the Congress, a Preparatory Commission met in Paris, France from October 16 to November 26, 1928. The Congress is the governing body of the Universal Postal Union (UPU), whose International Bureau is located in Berne, Switzerland. UPU was founded in 1874, as the General Postal Union. It had its beginnings with the Paris Postal Congress of 1863.

Exhibit Focus

This exhibit documents the postal history of the Ninth Universal Postal Congress held in London in 1929 and its Preparatory Commission, held in Paris in 1928. This will be done by showing Service Mail to and from the meetings and their Secretariats.

Original Research and Discovery

Items which the exhibitor discovered or where original research was done by the exhibitor are noted with this symbol of an open book:

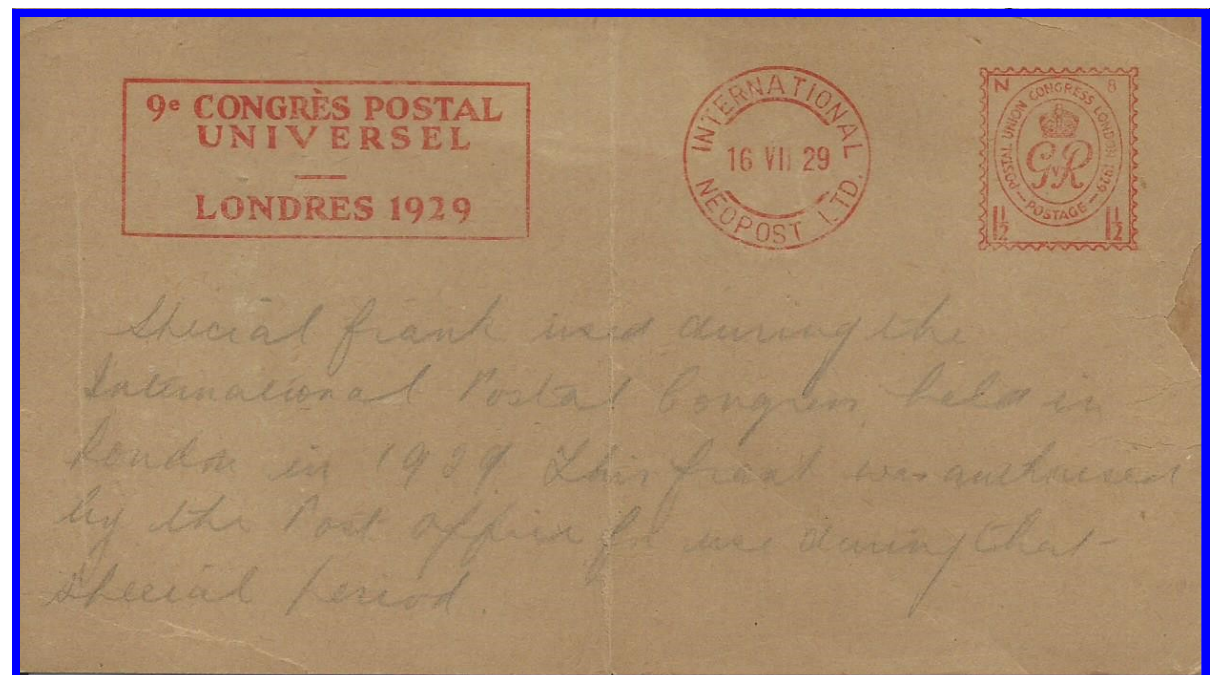

Information about Congress and Delegates:

Non-philatelic information about congress proceedings, the delegates and secretariat staff is given in boxes like this.

Unmailed Corner Card envelope used by 1928 Paris Preparatory Commission, "franked" by HAVAS meter A 1461 with Commission slogan. The usual meter used was HAVAS B 0146. Why a different machine was used is unknown. This is the only example recorded.

Neopost Meter #N8 with Slogan for 9th Universal Postal Congress, dated July 16, 1929. Its status is unclear, and was certainly not used for Congress mail. The best explanation to date is that the meter was a Specimen prepared to demonstrate the use of meters to the delegates. In 1929, the use of meters was in its infancy.

This is the only example recorded.
